California Here We Come (Again): Spirit Airlines Announces West Coast Growth with Expanded Service in Los Angeles

New twice-daily service between LA and Oakland/San Francisco Bay starts today

MIRAMAR, FL (November 12, 2015) – What’s that high in the sky above the Hollywood sign? It’s a whole lot of yellow planes, giving Los Angeles more go for takeoff. Spirit Airlines announced today the addition of several new routes this coming spring to and from Los Angeles International Airport (LAX). Spirit, best known for its super low Bare Fares™, with Frill Control™ begins twice-daily service today between LAX and the Oakland International Airport. So ditch the paparazzi and start planning your next adventure for a lot less money than on other airlines.

“Spirit Airlines is thrilled to announce these new routes, showcasing our commitment to low fares in the Los Angeles market,” said Mark Kopczak, Vice President of Network Planning for Spirit Airlines. “With new twice-daily service between LAX and Oakland/San Francisco Bay starting today followed by new service to Seattle-Tacoma announced just last week, and these new and expanded routes coming in spring 2016, we’ll be able to connect more customers on the west coast. Whether you’re visiting family or the great attractions these cities have to offer, Spirit Airlines allows many more travelers to fly to these great cities who previously could not afford it.”

Spirit’s new and expanded flights will be available for purchase beginning today.

About Spirit Airlines:

Spirit Airlines (NASDAQ: SAVE) is committed to offering the lowest total price to the places we fly, much lower than other airlines, on average nearly 40% less.* Our customers start with an unbundled, stripped-down Bare Fare™ and get Frill Control™ which allows them to pay only for the options they choose – like bags, seat assignments and refreshments – the things other airlines bake right into their ticket prices. We help people save money and travel more often, create new jobs and stimulate business growth in the communities we serve. With our modern and fuel-efficient all-Airbus fleet, we operate more than 370 daily flights to 56 destinations in the US, Latin America and the Caribbean. Come save with us at www.spirit.com.
